

Follow-up system audit

I checked every automatic follow-up (email, WhatsApp, staff alerts), the Feed, the scheduled jobs and the error logs. I fixed what I found along the way. This page lists what was wrong, what I fixed, and the few things that need you.

What I fixed

Fixed

Feed view counts did not move while people were reading

The counts in the database were correct (your three posts have 4, 3 and 3 views, matching the real records). But the Feed was never switched on for live updates, so a number only changed when someone reloaded the page. Your own view also didn't show until a reload. Now views, likes and comments update on every open screen as they happen. A new or deleted post refreshes the list unless someone is typing.

Fixed

"Lead overdue" alerts were never sent

The portal had a "lead overdue" alert, but nothing ever raised it, so leads went quiet without anyone hearing about it. Now an hourly check (09:00–20:00 Istanbul) alerts you and the lead's owner, once a day per lead, or with one summary when more than 5 are waiting. The first run sent 4 alerts.

Fixed

Finance dashboard was not live

"Money at a glance" is built to refresh when a payment lands, but its table was also never switched on for live updates. It now refreshes by itself. People still only receive rows they are allowed to see.

Fixed

WhatsApp follow-ups ran on an older version

The automatic WhatsApp follow-up job still sent team warnings, such as low Twilio balance, by email only. It now uses the portal alerts (bell, phone push and email). Test run: OK, balance $19.98.

Fixed

Your test chat was stuck on "needs a person"

Because of the earlier refund question, the AI stayed paused on your own number. I pressed "Done" for you, so the AI answers you again.

Fixed

AI replies used formatting WhatsApp can't show

In testing, the AI wrote bold, which WhatsApp shows as stars. It now uses WhatsApp's own bold and plain links.

What needs you

Waiting

Meta hasn't approved the 7 WhatsApp templates yet

Until they are approved, the automatic WhatsApp follow-ups (quiz, unpaid checkout, missing documents, offer letter, 14-day check-in) can't start. WhatsApp only allows approved templates outside the 24-hour reply window. Replies to students who write first work normally. The system checks Meta every 30 minutes and starts by itself once they are approved.

You: nothing to do unless Meta rejects one. I'll see it in the inbox settings.

Today

4 leads are waiting for a follow-up

The strongest is band B (score 56), which has waited 8 days. The others were due 3, 9 and 20 days ago. Each got its 3-email series, but nobody has called or messaged them.

You or Godfrey: open Leads in the portal and work the list from the top.

HabitAlerts reach you, but are not opened in the portal

In the last 7 days you and Godfrey each got 5 alerts, all sent by push and email. None was opened in the portal (you may have read them by email). An unopened alert stays unread and the bell keeps counting.

You: tap an alert when you've dealt with it, or "Mark all read".

2 minutesTurn on leaked-password protection

Supabase can block passwords that are known to have leaked online. It's off. It's a switch, not code.

You: in Supabase, open Authentication, find the password security setting, and turn on leaked-password protection (it checks against HaveIBeenPwned).

What the WhatsApp AI now does

- For "how do I apply" or "how do I get 100% scholarship", it sends myorbuni.com/#start and says to watch the short video, then take the 2-minute assessment.
- It explains scholarships the way the website does: a discount of 25–75%, and a 100% place is a limited seat with one payment. It sends #schol for prices and never quotes them itself.
- It tells students they can apply by themselves for free (up to 3 programmes), and that our fee comes only after the offer letter.
- It follows the same paths as the assessment: $10 Masterclass, free application, or a counsellor. It answers visa questions honestly and points to Türkiye Bursları for fully funded places.
- Tested on 5 real questions before going live. "ok thanks" no longer triggers a hand-over.

Errors in the last 24 hours

- 11 short clock errors ("JWT issued at future") on the alert and email senders, out of about 1,400 runs. This is a Supabase-side timing glitch. The next run 2 minutes later sent everything, and nothing was lost.
- 2 errors from AskUni's server (502) overnight. That's their side; the next calls worked.
- 0 failed WhatsApp messages, 0 stuck emails, 0 failed scheduled jobs.
- Security check: nothing urgent. The notes are the password switch above, plus design choices that are already safe, such as public university and housing lists.

Next suggestion: the second quiz email says universities give "25% to 100% off". The website is more careful about 100% places, so I'd reword that line to match. Say the word and I'll do it.
